VOLUME LXXXII.---NO. 12. PITTSBURGH, TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1867. PRICE THREE CENTS.

A Most Wonderful Cure by Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher.

My daughter Margaret McFarland, now about eleven years of age, has been afflicted with a scrofulous disease, ever since she was one year old. I employed a physician of this city, who treated her for some time, but failed to give her even temporary relief. I consulted three others, they all agreed in naming the disease scrofula, but failed as the first had done. The disease increased in severity each year, and had involved the whole system, the neck, arms and feet were covered with eating sores and ulcers, the eyeballs were blood-shot, and one of the eyes almost closed. The sores were continually discharging matter, and had burrowed into the flesh, so as to expose the bone underneath in a great many places. This was especially the case with the hands and feet, so badly were the feet afflicted that for six years she could not wear shoes on them. A great many pieces of decayed looking bones were discharged and worked out of the sores. She was unable to stand on her feet, and had to be in a reclining position. At this stage of the disease, Mr. Lawrence Ennis, one of my neighbors, informed me of the wonderful cure of Mr. Daniel A. Boyd, (with whom he was personally acquainted), which was effected with the use of your Blood Searcher. I called to see Mr. Boyd, and he advised me to consult Dr. Keyser. I concluded to do so, but found that it was impossible to bring her to the Doctor's office, as her sufferings were so great that she could not bear to be moved. I then went to your store, 140 Wood Street; and purchased a bottle of your valuable medicine, and before she had used the first bottle, she was able to walk around. She has taken your Blood Searcher off and on, for the period of three years, and out of thirty-six sores which were on her person when she commenced taking your medicine, only two remain, and they are almost well. She is at present enjoying good health, better, in fact, than she has ever had in her life before. I feel bound in gratitude to you, to make known these facts as well as for the benefit of those who may be similarly afflicted.

NEAL McFARLAND,

The following persons are neighbors of Mr. McF., and have full knowledge of this extraordinary cure, and have allowed their names to be used with reference to the facts.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Important Decision by the Supreme Court.

OPINIONS FOR AND AGAINST THE TEST OATHS.

Senator Cowan to be Appointed Minister to Austria.

THE TERRITORIAL BILL FOR THE SOUTHERN STATES.

WASHINGTON, January 14, 1867.

THE MISSOURI TEST OATH REQUIRED OF CLERGYMEN AND TEACHERS.

Associate Justice Field, to-day, delivered the opinion of the United States Supreme Court in the Missouri Test Oath case, John C. Cummins, a Roman Catholic priest, who was indicted for preaching and teaching without taking the oath prescribed by the Constitution of the State, being the plaintiff in error. The Court decided the oath in this case unconstitutional, it being in the nature of a punishment without trial, and in its character ex post facto, and operating as a bill of attainder. The judgment of the courts below is reversed.

THE OATH REQUIRED OF ATTORNEYS WHO AIDED THE REBELLION.

Associate Justice Field also delivered the opinion of the Court in the cases of Garland and Marr, who, taking part in the rebellion, ask to be re-admitted to practice law in the Supreme Court. The Court held that as the statute imposes a punishment, which could not have been imposed at the time the offense was committed, it is in its nature an ex post facto law. Attorneys are not officers of the United States; they are officers of the Courts and hold their offices during good behavior. The Court is not the register of the edicts of any other power. The applicants obtained a pardon from the President, which relieves them from the consequences of their offenses and makes them citizens in the eyes of the law, the same as before the offence was committed. Congress cannot limit the prerogative of mercy. It cannot be filtered by legislative restrictions. It followed that the prayer of the petitioner must be granted. The rule which requires attorneys to take the test oath must be rescinded.

A DISSENTING OPINION.

Associate Justice Miller, for himself, the Chief Justice, and Associate Justices Swayne and Davis, read a dissenting opinion, maintaining that practice in courts is a privilege, and that attorneys are subject to legislation the same as judges. The law makes no distinction, but requires all civil and military officers to take the same oath. Attorneys exert a marked influence on the character of the government. If all attorneys in the South had been faithful to their allegiance we should have been spared the horrors of the rebellion. It was not claimed by a majority of the Court that the law works attainder of blood; therefore this is not a bill of attainder. Nor does it appear that it convicted any designated persons, or declared the punishment of persons who arrayed themselves in hostility to the government, and gave aid and comfort to the enemy, or forfeited their right to appear in court. This was not a criminal, but a civil proceeding, which afflicted private rights retrospectively.

With regard to the Missouri case, the question involved rested with the State. The constitutional restriction that Congress shall make no law abridging the freedom of religion, was not applicable. Justice Story says the whole power was left to the State, to be exercised according to its judgment. The Constitution of Missouri says no such persons as are described shall exercise their functions unless they show their loyalty. Cases were quoted in support of this point.

THE PENDING ENABLING ACTS.

On Tuesday morning Mr. Stevens will call up his enabling act for the Southern States, and endeavor to press it to a vote on Wednesday.

Mr. Ashley, on Tuesday, will submit as a substitute for Mr. Stevens' bill, the measure agreed upon by the Committee on Territories. This bill abolishes the present Southern State governments and all laws made in pursuance thereof. It calls upon all male citizens over twenty-one years of age, who can swear they have not aided the rebellion after the 4th of March, 1864, and would have complied with the President's proclamation of the 8th of December, 1863, if opportunity had been offered them; who can swear they never ill-used Union soldiers, and will henceforth be true to their allegiance to the government, to organize constitutional governments in their respective States. It calls for a convention of the Southern States or delegates who can swear they never voluntarily aided the rebellion in any way. These conventions shall determine if they will accept the terms proposed by Congress, and if so, shall appoint commissions to provide for holding elections, adopt a new constitution, elect State officers, and prepare for admission into the Union.

Each Constitution shall provide against slavery, all laws to be impartial as to race and color, rebel debt shall not be paid, nor loss from emancipation of slaves; free schools without distinction of color of pupils shall be established, and no person that held civil, military or naval offices in the Confederacy shall be allowed to hold any office except by a two-third vote of the Legislature. In case of rebellion, Congress shall have the right to declare a cessation of its relations with rebellious States until such State is thoroughly purged of its disloyalty. The Constitutions must be ratified by a majority of the people of each State, who can take the oath of loyalty. After the ratification of the Constitution, the Senators and Representatives shall be elected, but not admitted until Congress declares the State entitled to representation.

It is further provided that in case the States decline to accept these terms they shall submit to Congress a plan of restoration; providing that said plan recognizes the Constitution of the United States as the supreme law of the land, that the State Constitutions shall guarantee to all freedom and equality before the law, and suffrage must be impartial without regard to race or color. The rebel war debt and compensation for slaves will not be assumed by said States, or claims be brought against the United States for them. All laws recognizing slavery or, which exclude the testimony of persons of color, or deny the right of trial by jury, or make color a distinction, shall be null and void. The provisional governments may suspend the writ of habeas corpus in case of resistance of authority, and call on the government for aid.

A proposition is made to divide Texas in two States before her re-admission into the Union.

SENATOR COWAN'S SLICE.

It is understood that the President to-day nominated Senator Cowan Minister to Austria.

CIVIL GOVERNMENT AT THE SOUTH.

The Committee on Territories has instructed Mr. Ashley to report his amendment to the bill to re-establish civil government in North Carolina, as a substitute for Stevens' bill.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

The total receipts of Internal Revenue since the first of July amount to $175,471,185. It is thought the entire receipts of the year will exceed all estimates by twenty or even thirty millions of dollars. It appears from official documents that nearly eighty-four millions of internal revenue were collected in the first collection district of Illinois during the year 1866.

EMIGRATION.

In three-fourths of the year 1866, two hundred and eighty-six thousand four hundred and ninety persons arrived in the United States from foreign countries.

EXTINCTION OF THE NATIONAL DEBT.

There is little opposition in the Committee on Banking and Currency, to Mr. Randall's bill for the extinction of the national debt in thirty-six years, by a sinking fund, while the opposition from the banks is less than was expected.

Movements of Troops.

FORTRESS MONROE, Jan. 14.—The 20th United States Infantry, numbering six hundred and fifty men, lately quartered at Richmond, have arrived at Norfolk and are embarking to-night on the steamer Missouri for New Orleans to relieve the colored regiments who have been mustered out of the service.

FROM MEXICO.

THE HOPELESSNESS OF THE IMPERIAL CAUSE.

The French Troops Moving En Masse to the Coast.

SPEEDY OCCUPANCY OF THE CAPITAL BY THE LIBERALS.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 14.—By letters of December 28th, from the City of Mexico, from best informed authorities at the Imperial Court, we have the following important intelligence:

The French troops are moving en masse to Vera Cruz. General Castelnau leaves the city some time in the month of February. General Castelnau and the French Minister went to see the Emperor at Puebla, and obtained the promise from him of abdicating in twenty days.

It appears that the answer of the Liberal chiefs to the invitation sent them for co-operation, leaves no hope that a Congress can be had, and the Emperor must abdicate. The Emperor is governed by his confessor, Pere Fischer.

The Imperial Generals Marquez and Miramon are seizing men and horses wherever they can lay hands on them, in order to fill the ranks of their army.

The Liberals are all around the City of Mexico. The Americans are desirous of getting away, and all are taking out passports. The Liberals must get possession of the city before long; but the last effort of the Reactionists, it is feared, will be a desperate one,

LATER NEWS.

Letters sent by a messenger extraordinary, who left the capital December 29th, leave no doubt but that the French army will reach the sea coast ready to embark some time before they had been expected, and that the Emperor, Maximilian, will leave the country to the possession of the Liberals. The calling out of the forces of all the northern Mexican States, and their advance in force upon the capital, must soon result in its capture. The City of Mexico itself is strategically indefensible. A call has been issued to the young men of the City of Mexico appealing to their patriotism to join the ranks of the Liberals, and obey no longer the orders of a foreign despot.

The Imperial General Lozada has pronounced, at the head of his troops, against the Empire, and states in his proclamation that he will observe armed neutrality in his district of Nayano. The document is signed by Gen. Carlos Rivas, and a large number of other officers.

The Minister of France and General Castelnau left Mexico on the twentieth to see Maximilian. They had a stormy interview, and the report is that the Emperor has abdicated.

An Austrian frigate, to carry Maximilian to Europe, has arrived at Vera Cruz.

The merchants in the city of Mexico are suffering from the embroglio between the French and Imperialists. The Custom House in the city refuses to deliver any goods which left Vera Cruz after the 12th, the day on which the French took possession of the customs.

THE VERY LATEST.

The steamship Cassandria arrived at this port this morning from Vera Cruz direct, and brings the following highly important intelligence from the city of Mexico, of the 8th inst.:

The last detachment of French troops from the interior, under General Castagny, is expected daily in the capital, when all the forces would commence their movements toward Vera Cruz. Marshal Bazaine expected to leave the capital about the 28th instant.

All the abandoned cities are being occupied by the Liberals, Guadalajara, San Luis, &c., being in their hands.

General Miramon left the capital to occupy these places, but is generally believed he would not succeed.

The great difficulty with the Imperialists is the want of money and arms. General Mejia had become dissatisfied and abandoned the cause. The Emperor, blinded by advisors, has resolved to continue the struggle and had reached the Capital.

It is believed by many that the Emperor, on the departure of the French, would abandon the country.

The French troops are expected at Vera Cruz on the first of February, and on the first of March all the expeditionary corps, it is believed, would be embarked for France.

THIRTY-NINTH CONGRESS,

(SECOND SESSION.)

SENATE.

PETITIONS PRESENTED.

Petitions were presented for the passage of the pending tariff bill; for increased pay of army officers; for reconstruction on basis of equal rights; against curtailment of the currency, &c. Also the memorial of the Minnesota Legislature for an appropriation for improvement of the Mississippi river.

PENITENTIARIES IN TERRITORIES.

A bill was passed to set aside the net proceeds of Internal Revenue, in the Territories in 1867-68, for the erection of penitentiaries.

PENSION AGENTS.

Mr. LANE called up the bill to change the mode of appointing Pension Agents; providing that they should hereafter be appointed by the President with advice and consent of the Senate.

Mr. SUMNER'S amendment requiring that all officers and agents of the Government, whose salaries or fees exceed $1,000 must be confirmed by the Senate, was opposed by Mr. LANE, who said he would prefer it as an independent proposition. It was rejected—yeas 12, nays 21.

THE TENURE OF OFFICE.

The morning hour having expired, and the unfinished business of Friday being in order, the bill to regulate tenure of office came up.

Mr. Hendrick's amendment to strike out the provision that no vacancies shall be filled except with the advice and consent of the Senate, the duties of such offices to be exercised without salaries, fees or other emolument by such other officer as may by law exercise such powers, was debated by Messrs. HENDRICKS, COWAN, WILLIAMS and FRELINGHUYSEN.

Mr. SHERMAN said the bill contemplated nothing unconstitutional or revolutionary. Of the two thousand five hundred removals made by the President since last summer, not one hundred have been reported to the Senate. If he believed the President would try to harmonize with the Senate, and send in other names, after his nominees had been rejected, he would be willing to let him fill vacancies; but the President had manifested no such disposition.

Mr. BUCKALEW suggested that Mr. Hendricks withdraw the amendment for the present, and let debate proceed on the general merits of the bill.

The amendment was withdrawn.

Mr. HOWE moved to strike out the words "expiration of term or other cause" from the third section, which reads as follows:

"That the President shall have power to fill all vacancies which may happen during the recess of the Senate, by reason of death, resignation, expiration of term of office or other lawful cause, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of the next session thereafter."

The amendment was agreed to.

Mr. WILLIAMS spoke generally in favor of the bill.

After Executive session the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED.

Bills and resolutions were introduced that the President cause written or printed discharges to be given to all volunteer commissioned officers who have been honorably discharged from the army or navy; abrogating for the future certain privileges of citizenship for acts of rebellion against the United States, and providing for the restoration of these privileges in certain cases; for the payment of bounty to representatives of soldiers killed or who have died in the military service of the United States, whose term of enlistment was less than one year; to re-establish civil governments in the States lately in rebellion, excepting Tennessee. The bills were all referred.

Bills were also introduced to repeal the tax on manufactured cotton; to amend the District suffrage act so as to disfranchise no person on account of sex; to establish a mining bureau; to protect the rights of actual settlers on public land; and limiting the amount to be entered in any one land district upon agricultural college scrip.

THE PRESIDENT CHARGED WITH BEING PRIVY TO THE ASSASSINATION.

Mr. LOAN'S resolution, offered last Monday, looking to the impeachment of the President, came up, and Mr. KELSO having withdrawn his motion for the previous question,

Mr. LOAN read a speech arraigning the President for acts of his administration, and charging that he was privy to the assassination of President Lincoln.

Mr. HALE rose to a question of order, and said he understood the gentleman to charge the President of the United States with complicity in the assassination of President Lincoln, and asked if such language was in order.

A page of Mr. Loan's manuscript was sent to the Clerk's desk and read, as follows: "The crime (meaning the assassination of Mr. Lincoln,) was committed; the way was made clear for the successor; the assassin's bullet, wielded and directed by rebel hands and paid for by rebel gold, made Andrew Johnson President of the United States. The price which he was to pay for the promotion was treachery to the Republic and fidelity to the party of treason and rebellion."

Mr. HALE claimed that other sentences to the same effect had been pronounced by Mr. Loan.

Mr. LOAN denied he had proceeded farther than the sentence read, and asked Mr. Hale to state what he supposed had been read.

Mr. HALE replied that that was the very thing he desired read.

Mr. LOAN said he was not under any obligations to furnish any more of the manuscript than he had read.

The SPEAKER remarked that the speech, being read from manuscript, it had not been taken down by the reporter.

Mr. HALE stated that the words which he referred to were to the effect, substantially as those read, conveying the direct idea that the now President of the United States was a party to the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, and that he contracted to pay, and did pay the price for that assassination.

Mr. LOAN submitted that as Mr. Hale could not give the words excepted to, his point of order failed.

The SPEAKER decided the remarks were in order, the resolution before the House being one declaring it the imperative duty of Congress to impeach the President. This being the case, a member has a right to state why he thinks so, and the Chair cannot restrain him.

Mr. HALE declined to appeal from the decision.

The SPEAKER asked, as a personal favor, that the appeal be taken, and Mr. WASHBURNE, of Indiana, complied with the request, and the appeal was tabled by a vote of 101 to 8.

Mr. LOAN continued his speech to the conclusion.

Mr. HALE challenged Mr. Loan to specify the first particle of proof of his charges, and insisted it was due to this body and the nation that he should do so before taking his seat.

Mr. LOAN declined to do so.

The morning hour here expired, and the bill went over till to-morrow.

INFORMATION CALLED FOR.

On motion of Mr. WASHBURNE, of Illinois, the Secretary of War was asked for a report of General Wright and subordinates, on the condition of affairs in Texas; and the Attorney General for the papers in the case of A. B. More, indicted in the local courts at Vicksburg, with his opinion thereon.

On motion of Mr. PRICE, the Secretary of War was directed to furnish a statement of the number of small arms furnished by the Springfield Manufactory, and the number furnished from other places in and out of the United States.

CURTAILMENT OF NATIONAL CIRCULATION.

Mr. WILSON, of Iowa, asked leave to offer a resolution against any greater curtailment of the national circulation than four millions of dollars per month during 1867, and that for the compound interest notes authorized to be withdrawn, in excess of that amount, legal tender notes, without interest, ought to be substituted.

The House refused to suspend the rules by a vote of 74 yeas against 67 nays, so the resolution was not received.

INCREASE OF NATIONAL BANK NOTES.

Mr. HOOPER moved a suspension of the rules to allow the introduction of a resolution that it is not expedient to increase the amount of national bank notes for circulation beyond the two hundred millions of dollars authorized by law.

The House refused to suspend the rules. Yeas 87; nays 52—not two-thirds.

BOUNTIES TO LOYAL SLAVE OWNERS.

Mr. COOK from the Judiciary Committee reported a Joint Resolution suspending the operation of the 24th section of the act of 24th of February, 1864, which authorizes payment of loyal owners of colored volunteers. It was passed by 107 against 35.

WITHDRAWAL OF LEGAL TENDER CURRENCY.

The House refused to suspend rules to allow Mr. CULLEOM to offer a resolution instructing the Ways and Means Committee to report a bill for the repeal of all laws giving the Secretary of the Treasury authority to withdraw any Legal Tender currency from circulation, except compound interest notes, which shall be funded in bonds of the United States as they mature.

IMPORTATION OF COOLIES.

Mr. BANKS offered a resolution that it is the duty of the government to give effect to the moral sentiment of the nation through all its agencies, for the purpose of preventing the further introduction of Coolies into this hemisphere, or adjacent islands. Adopted, unanimously.

MESSAGES FROM THE PRESIDENT.

A message was received from the President transmitting the reports from the Secretaries of State and War giving an account of the occupation of Matamoras by the United States troops in November; also another message giving information in possession of the Secretary of State in reference to the revolution in Candia.

ADMISSION OF NEBRASKA.

The bill for the admission of Nebraska came up, and the question of impartial suffrage was debated at length. The House seconded the previous question by a vote of 68 to 67, but without coming to vote on the bill, adjourned.

Allegheny Councils—Caucus Nominations.

Last evening, pursuant to custom, the Union Republican members of the new Allegheny City Councils held a caucus meeting for the nomination of candidates for the various city offices within their gift. The meeting was full and animated, and considerable excitement existed among the different candidates, who were "button-holing" for preference among the City Fathers. The caucus organized about eight o'clock, James McBrier, Esq., President of the Select Branch, presiding. The following was the result, the nominations being equivalent to election:

Official Papers—GAZETTE, Dispatch and Freiheits Freund.
Controller—R. B. Francis.
Treasurer—D. Macferron.
Street Commissioner—Thomas Megraw.
Superintendent of Water Works—George N. Miller.
Clerk of Markets—Duncan Dallas.
Weigh Master at Diamond Scales—John S. Edgar.
Weigh Master at Second Ward Scales—Hugh Larimer.
Wharf Master—George Hutchinson.
Recording Regulator—(Held over.)
Salt Inspector and Measurer of Wood and Bark—Alexander Maxwell.
Clerk to Committees—Robert Dilworth.
City Solicitor—J. C. McCombs.
Assessor of City Taxes—R. R. Rhea.
Assessor of Water Rents—Abraham Davis.
Janitor of City Hall—Joseph Marshall.
Board Measurers—First ward, Robt. White, Second ward, William Murdoch; Third ward, James H. Campbell, Fourth ward Andrew Davidson.

We tender our sincere thanks to our Allegheny friends for the nomination of our journal as one of the official papers of the city, and shall endeavor to perform our duty in the future as we have in the past, in a manner satisfactory to all persons interested.

The Councils will meet to-night at their respective chambers for the purpose of electing the officers nominated and the transaction of other business.

Great Thirty Days Sale.

Our readers will not forget that the great sale of goods, regardless of cost, is now going on at the extensive salesrooms of T. A. McClelland, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street, and that bargains such as have never before been offered in this neighborhood are offered. The stock embraces all kinds of boots, shoes, gaiters, and every thing imaginable in the way of durable, comfortable, well made and desirable articles of pedal covering, dry-goods suitable for winter wear, dress goods of the best styles, clothing for men and boys, clothing materials, woolen goods for ladies' wear, furs, muffs, victorines, cuffs and an endless variety of choice house furnishing goods, &c., &c. For unprecedented bargains, call at McClellands. The salesrooms are upon your way to or from the market, and economical shoppers and every other body interested in bargains should call in, examine the stock and inquire the prices.

Another Homicide Pardoned.

Thomas Hughes, convicted in January, 1866, of murder in the second degree, and sentenced to ten years and six months imprisonment in the Penitentiary, has been pardoned by the Governor of the State. Hughes, it will be recollected, killed a man, a stranger in the city, at the railroad depot on Liberty street, by shooting him with a pistol, "fled for it," and was captured about a year afterwards in Philadelphia. The murder was committed in 18[illegible]. Hughes was tried Jan. 3d, 1866, M. Swartzwelder, Esq., defending him, and was sentenced on the 13th of the same month.

Sunday School Teacher Caned.—On Friday evening of last week, after the prayer meeting, the friends and members of Mr. Digby's Sunday School class met at Mozart Hall, for the purpose of presenting him with a beautiful cane, on which was inscribed "To Mr. William Digby, from his Bible Class, Jan. 1st, 1867." Rev. Herrick Johnston made the presentation for the class. Mr. Digby responded, and after giving a brief history of his early religious education, returned thanks for the substantial token of respect and esteem. Dunseath & Co., Fifth street, supplied the cane, which was finished in elegant style.

Pardoned by the President.—Henry Little, convicted at a late term of the United States District Court of passing a counterfeit ten-dollar bill on the keeper of a saloon on Smithfield street, and sentenced to the Penitentiary, has been pardoned by the President. There were many mitigating circumstances in the case. Little is a mere boy, being only sixteen years old. He had enjoyed a good reputation previous to the commission of this crime, to which he was evidently brought by another and older party, who gave him the bill to pass.

The Firemen.—The Vigilant Fire Company are having a new steamer built at the Amoskeag Works, New Hampshire, which will be somewhat lighter than the present one. The old steamer will be taken in part payment by the builders.

QUARTER SESSIONS—Judge Stowe.

Commonwealth vs Robert Mahoney. Indictment murder—for killing James McCutcheon, at Sharpsburg, on the night of September 6, 1866. The defendant is a colored man. Deceased declared shortly before his death, that he was lying on the porch and got up about eleven o'clock in the night to go into his boarding house. Finding the front door locked he went to the dining-room window, and hoisting it was in the act of getting into the room when he was spoken to by some one he did not know, he (deceased) replying that he was a boarder and was not going to hurt any one. He was then shot whilst he was in the window. Defendant was employed at house, that of C. W. Roam, in the borough of Sharpsburg.

District Court.

Before Judge Hampton.

This Court met Monday at 10 o'clock, and proceeded with the ejectment case of Walls vs. Shaffer, which went to the jury about noon. No verdict at adjournment.

Emma Wall vs. Dr. John E. Shaffer. Action in ejectment for the one-sixth of one-half of sixty-five acres of land in Elizabeth township. By agreement of counsel, notes of the trial in the former case were submitted in evidence and a verdict pro forma taken for the plaintiff, subject to the opinion of the Court in Banc upon the question of law reserved, viz: Whether the deed of Brisbane Wall, of 3d August, 1860, to Dr. Shaffer, conveyed the title of Emma Wall, the present plaintiff, to him or not? If it did, then judgment to be entered for the defendant, non obstante veredicto. But if not, then judgment to be entered on the verdict for the plaintiff.

William H. Brown vs. Albert Young. Action to recover three hundred dollars, the stated value of a "French Creek" flat boat, carried from its moorings at the Monongahela Bridge by a flood, and caught adrift near McKee's Rocks, about two miles down the Ohio. On trial at adjournment.

Common Pleas Court.

This Court met on Monday, 14th, Judge Sterrett on the bench.

Robert Hays vs. William Thompson. Action in ejectment for 176 acres of land in Jefferson township. S. A. Purviance, Esq., for plaintiff, offered as evidence of title a deed, (dated Jan. 11th, 1862,) to Margaret Ellen Thompson, (now deceased,) who subsequently became the wife of defendant, for the land in question, which contained a condition for the payment to plaintiff of an annuity of $279. This condition had not been complied with. Robert Woods, Esq., for defendant, objected to the deed as irrevalent. He contended that a non-compliance with the condition did not amount to a forfeiture of title, and that the remedy of plaintiff was not in ejectment, but in an action for breach of covenant. The Court sustained the offer. The jury found a verdict in favor of plaintiff for six cents damages, to be released upon payment of the annuities due, $1233, with interest from Jan. 1st, 1867, payable April 1st, 1868.

Objection was made to the verdict in consequence of the unreasonable length of time allowed for the payment of amount of plaintiff's claim, and on motion of Mr. Purviance the Court granted a new trial, and ordered the case to be put upon the trial list for retrial on Wednesday, the 23d inst.

A rule was granted on Christ Graff and Thos. Gamble, defaulting jurors, to show cause why attachments should not issue against them.

Charles Rowan's administrator vs. Gullett & Applegate. Action to recover on two promissory notes, one, dated December 9th, 1856, for four hundred dollars, and the other, dated July 1st, 1856, for one thousand thirty-five dollars. The defendants plead the statute of limitations, suit having been brought so late as March, 1863, not within six years, as required. Verdict for defendants.

Henry Sheplar vs. Philip Sheplar's administrator. Judgment confessed for nine hundred and seventy-seven dollars.

Mary R. Thorn vs. Joseph Wilson, administrator of Dr. R. B. Simpson, deceased, with notice to Louisa Simpson, devisee and heir-at-law of said decedent. Plaintiff claimed that the estate of Dr. Simpson was justly indebted to her in the sum of $500, with interest from October 1st, 1865, for money received by him in his lifetime, being the balance of money remaining in his hands on which he paid the interest. No note or obligation in writing was given to plaintiff, but Dr. S. always admitted having the money by annually paying the interest thereon down to October, 1865. The facts as stated were established, and it appeared that the legatee had refused to allow the claim for the reason that there was nothing found in the books or among the papers of decedent to justify the administrators in paying it. Verdict in favor of plaintiff for the amount claimed, $538.66.

William J. Miller vs. William J. Huffman, administrator of William Lowrie, deceased. Mr. White, counsel for plaintiff, took a nonsuit.

The list for the day having been disposed of, the Court adjourned till to-day at 9 o'clock.

Court of Quarter Sessions.

This Court met Monday forenoon, at ten o'clock, Judges Stowe and Mellon on the bench, and the

COURTNEY'S STATION RAPE CASE

Was proceeded with, occupying the entire day. Michael Sullivan was the defendant, and Maggie Sullivan, aged 14 years, the prosecutrix, attended by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dugan. The counsel in the case were: Thomas Howard, Esq., for Commonwealth, and John H. Hampton, R. S. Morrison, and W. D. Moore, Esqs., for the defense. We need not repeat the facts, nor descend to particulars, having already given what is at all fit for publication concerning the case. At the conclusion of the arguments of counsel the Court adjourned. Judge Stowe will charge the jury this morning.

Stealing Clothing from the Soldiers' Home.

A late inmate of the Soldiers' Home, in the Ninth ward, named Thomas J. Monroe, was committed to jail on Sunday, by Alderman Donaldson, charged by Dr. C. B. King, Surgeon at the Home, with the larceny of clothing and other articles from that institution. Monroe, it appears, had been in the army, and some time ago was admitted to the Home on a certificate of a physician. After being there some time, he was, during the temporary absence of a ward master, placed in his position. In this office he was required to make out papers, draw and give out the clothes to the inmates, &c. During his occupancy of the position various articles of clothing were missing from time to time, and Monroe is the suspected thief. At one time a colored man happened to enter the absent ward master's room, when he found Monroe in the act of looking at the contents of that officer's carpet sack. The colored man, whose name is George Washington, told Monroe to whom the things belonged, when the latter remarked that he didn't think he would return again, and if he did not, he (Monroe) would divide with Washington. At another time Monroe's wife and daughter visited him, and had a basket with them. It is thought that some of the missing articles, such as drawers, socks, etc., were taken at that time. Some of the articles were found under Monroe's bed tick. The colored man, Washington, was committed as witness.

Sent to Dixmont.

Mary Brady, the young woman committed to jail by Alderman Donaldson, a few days ago, for surety of the peace, and believed to be insane, was before Judge Sterrett, in the Common Pleas room, yesterday, an application having been made by George R. Cochran, Esq., to have her sent to the Asylum at Dixmont. Several persons with whom she had lived as a servant, also her step-mother, were present and testified that they believed her mind to be disturbed, and that it was unsafe for her to be at large. Dr. McCandless, Jr., the jail physician, whose attention had been called to her, stated that she was laboring under great mental aberration, but might be restored under proper treatment. The young woman herself was asked by His Honor what she had to say, and replied by making a long and incoherent statement concerning her troubles, affording additional evidence of her demented state. She was not violent, but there was a vacancy in her gaze, and once she began there seemed to be no end to her talk. The burden of her complaint was that some persons had endeavored to damage her character, with a view of preventing her marriage with a young man to whom she was engaged. The Court made the required order for her transfer from the jail to Dixmont.

A Nuisance.—Mr. J. B. Williams, representing the Board of Health, yesterday made information before Alderman Morrow, charging Winnifred Davis with maintaining a nuisance. It seems the accused owns tenements on Water street, and one of these is provided with a smoking chimney, which for want of repairing, is endangering the health of the tenants and the neighbors. The defendant was brought before the Alderman by whom she was fined $5 and ordered to pay the costs.

A New Church Paper.—The Episcopalians of this city are making efforts to start a paper, and $15,000 has been subscribed.

A First Class Packing House.

To those who would gain an adequate idea of the pork and beef packing interest of Pittsburgh, we would recommend a visit to the packing house of Messrs. F. Sellers & Co., on the corner of Penn and Wayne streets, in the Fourth ward. There is no more fitting place to obtain a large knowledge of this business. The extent and variety of the business transacted by this firm are very great, and enormous quantities of sugar cured hams, sugar cured beef, breakfast bacon, sides and shoulders, besides great numbers of beef tongues, are perpetually turned out from the curing department of the establishment. Jobbers will search in vain for so favorable a place to deal in the articles mentioned. They are supplied in almost unlimited quantities, of the very highest qualities, and at the most reasonable terms.

It is also greatly to the interest of all miners, railroad and mill companies to turn their attention to this house, for the extra No. 1 and No. 2 lard oils turned out here in large quantities are far lower in price than all animal oils, and far better than any mixtures that can be devised as lubricators. Besides these oils, the firm supply the best possible "mill grease," and so much are all these in favor with practical men that most of the rolling mills in this city and neighborhood are supplied by this house. Other very important articles turned out here, are the star candles of a very superior grade, and the olean soap, which has become so popular for its many excellent qualities.

The building occupied by this firm is a large three story structure on the corner of Penn and Wayne streets. More properly it consists, for practical purposes of four stories, the cellar being used to as much purpose as any of the upper portions. The cellar extends the entire length of the building and is divided into three compartments; in the centre portion is stored the barrelled lard used in manufacturing lard oil. In the division on the right are the great presses used for pressing the oil from the lard. The products of this are the extra lard oil, and the prime starine.—Other presses are above for the making of No. 2 oil from No. 2 Lard. The hard cakes which remain after the oil has been expressed, are "stearine," and are used for making the world famous star candles.

The third division of the cellar is devoted to the salting and storing of "bulk meat," consisting principally of shoulders and sides of pork, which are kept here in dry salt until ready for smoking. In the cellar also are three large apartments for supplying smoke to the three smoke houses which extend up through the three upper stories.

The first floor is devoted mainly to pickling hams, which are packed in casks, where they are kept until ready for smoking. The second story is also devoted to the sugar curing of hams, beef hams, beef tongues and breakfast bacon. The third story is occupied by the coopers, who manufacture and repair all the casks used in the establishment.

Mr. Sellers, the principal of the firm, is one of the most widely and favorably known of all our business men. For many years he has occupied a leading position in various branches of manufacturing and mercantile business, and his name alone is sufficient guarantee—if any guarantee were wanted, for an interest so firmly established—for the first class character of the establishment. Messrs. Owens and Dunseath, the gentlemen associated with Mr. Sellers, are also well and favorably known as business men of excellent capacity and high standing.

The Insurance Companies—Annual Election of Directors.

The stockholders of the several insurance companies of the city, yesterday elected Directors for the ensuing year. We give below the result of the elections:

ALLEGHENY.—John Irwin, Jr., John D. McCord, C. G. Hussey, Harvey Childs, Thomas J. Hoskinson, Wm. Dean, Francis Sellers, Chas. Hays, Robert H. Davis, B. L. Fahnestock, Geo. D. McGrew, W. H. Everson.

Great Bargains in Clothing—Immense Reduction in Prices at J. D. Ramaley's 334 and 336 Liberty Street.

Our readers need again be reminded that the grand closing out sale of fall and winter clothing continues to draw large crowds of purchasers at the extensive sales rooms of J. D. Ramaley, 334 and 336 Liberty street. Five hundred overcoats made from the best of material and in the best style, still remain unsold and will be disposed of at prices much below the actual cost. In addition to these there will also be found a full line of all styles of men's clothing, drawers, under shirts, dress shirts, cotton and woolen hosiery, soaps, ties, suspenders, gloves, and a general assortment of gents furnishing goods. The proprietor designs removing into his new and palatial store opposite the Union Depot, in a very short time and hence his determination to close out all of his present stock of goods regardless of cost or invoice. Gentlemen in need of any article in the clothing line should at once repair to Ramaley's and secure a bargain, such as will not be offered again for a long while. Remember the place, 334 and 336 Liberty street.

Good Place to Go When Drunk.

Most men who keep sober regard the Mayor's office as a very good place for drunken men to go. Most men who get drunk regard it as an admirable place for drunken men to stay away from. An exception to the latter rule turned up in Allegheny yesterday morning. An American citizen, one-armed and of Teutonic extraction, wended his weaving way for a time through the streets of our sister city, under the leadership of tangle-footed spirits. His organization was very poorly balanced, for the time bring at all events. Perhaps the absence of his arm destroyed the equilibrium of his physique; at any rate, he had very little equilibrium left. The pavement was too broad, and the breadth of it tired him. At length, wearied out with carrying much weight, he brought up for a resting spell at the office of Mayor Morrison. He staggered in and stumbled into a chair. The officers present saw how it was. The man was very tired and needed prolonged rest, so they "chucked" him into a cell where he would not be disturbed until this morning, when it is to be hoped he will be entirely recovered.

For the Inner Man.

The inner man and the outer man monopolize pretty much the attention of the whole man. By the time a man has fully effected his arrangements, by which he is to clothe his surface and feed his interior economy from day to day, he has, if he belongs to the ordinary run of men, but little thought to bestow elsewhere. The inner man—the stomach—comes in for more than an equal share of daily anxiety and daily attention, and the place where the best chances for the stomach are offered, is the place most people are particularly anxious to find. In view of these facts, we would call the careful attention of all our lady and gentlemen readers to the advertisement in another column of this morning's issue of Joseph Fricker, a well known restaurateur of the city. Mr. Fricker has just opened a first class dining saloon for ladies and gentlemen at No. 25 St. Clair street, close to the Suspension Bridge. Everything to be found at any first class restaurant is to be found here. Ladies will find an elegant and commodious dining saloon on the second floor. Give Mr. Fricker a call.

Another Wonderful Cure.

We recently made the broad assertion that Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher "accomplishes more good for suffering humanity than any other medicine now in use upon the face of the earth," and, corroborated by the wonderful cure which we publish in another column of to-day's issue, we have no idea of retracting. The present case is selected from among a number at home, the cure of a little daughter of Mr. Neal McFarland, a well known citizen of our city. Dr. Keyser has reason to be proud of the success which invariably follows the use of his Blood Searcher, at home and abroad. Here the suffering have the advantage of consultation with Dr. Keyser, who, from study, experience and the regular investure of the Medical Degrees is recognized among our most reliable physicians, and is thoroughly acquainted with the anatomy and ills of mankind. We commend the certificate published in another column to the attention of our readers, knowing that it speaks volumes for the curative powers of Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher.

Bayard Taylor's Lecture.

Last evening, in the City Hall, Mr. Bayard Taylor lectured on "American Life." He did not pursue the customary method of telling wherein, as a people, we excel, but in what particulars we come short. He was severe on those narrownesses in thought, and conduct which prevent the free and independent development of individual life. He certainly did not flatter, but he did instruct. While we do not fully concur, either in his analysis of the defects of American Society, or in the ideal to which he invites aspiration, we heartily approve the main purpose by which he is animated.

D. Lyle, Chief Engineer of the Philadelphia Fire Department, presented last week to the Eagle Fire Company of this city, a handsome silver mounted trumpet, as a mark of personal esteem for the members comprising the company.

ing, at the Academy of Music, Rev. Dr. W. H. Bellows is to lecture under the auspices of the Young Men's Mercantile Library Association. The subject chosen by Dr. Bellows—"Two-Thirds Through the Nineteenth Century"—is one of the largest and most absorbing interest, and when treated with the rich thought, the thorough culture, the refined intellect and the finished eloquence which Dr. Bellows brings to bear upon it, cannot fail to richly repay all who are so fortunate as to listen to the lecture. There will be no reserved seats for the lecture this evening, and those who go earliest will secure the best seats. A vacant seat should not be left in the house, for a more finished speaker, or a more pleasing one, is seldom listened to.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1867.

TO-DAY.

Three events will conspire to make this day memorable in the civil annals of Pennsylvania.

1. The retirement of ANDREW G. CURTIN from the office of Governor. Six years ago he was elected to that high post, just as the dark cloud of the Rebellion was spreading its gloom over the republic. It was a time of doubt, uncertainty and peril, beyond precedent. For a brief space it seemed to discriminating observers that he might prove not equal to the emergency. The confidence of some was temporarily shaken. A few withdrew their countenance and support from him. But as the storm grew louder and fiercer, his capabilities were developed and he settled intelligently and calmly down to the work before him. It soon became apparent that no farther occasion for apprehension would occur. From that point he steadily grew in the confidence and respect of the people. His reputation overflowed the borders of the Commonwealth, and became so magnified that no other contemporaneous gubernatorial fame surpassed his.

Near the expiration of his first term a violent attempt was made to defeat his renomination. A strong combination was made against him. Men deeply skilled in all the arts of political management, conspired to compass his banishment to private life, but failed. This city was the theatre of the notable attempt and of his triumph.

During the late political canvass the enthusiasm with which he was welcomed by the loyal masses in the various counties into which he went to attend and address popular assemblies, presented spectacles altogether unique and imposing. No parallel can be found in the history of the State. It was abundantly demonstrated that he had a vastly stronger hold upon the masses than any other of his fellow-citizens.

We do not disguise that in the course of his administration he made mistakes, and some of considerable magnitude. We are not endeavoring to measure him by our individual standard, but to concede to him what the general judgment freely allows. On this basis, whatever abatements may be made for short-comings, enough remains to satisfy a large ambition. His government of the State has been a marked success, and he to-day descends to the ranks of private life with a record of which he and his children may well be proud.

2. The inauguration of Gov. GEARY. It is, perhaps, the misfortune of this gentleman that he has to demonstrate his abilities as a Statesman in immediate contrast with a predecessor whose official career has, on the whole, given the largest satisfaction, and in time of peace, when the circumstances neither necessitate nor allow those great expedients which in periods of national extremity strike the popular sense with admiration and surprise.

Upon Governor GEARY's election he had three courses open before him.

(a) He could have filled the confidential places near his person with independent men, of experience, ability and probity, and in such a way as to show they owed the selection to their qualifications and his preference, and not to the dictation of faction. This would have put him in a position to meet, with fairness and impartiality, all factions and individuals that contributed to his election. So far as this policy had a definite tendency it would be to break the force of faction, to draw the Republican party together as a homogeneous mass, and to make his administration the point of a new departure, whence fresh successes could be easily achieved, and future power attained and beneficently wielded. This would have made him not the instrument nor a chief of faction, but the recognized and honored head of the Republican party.

(b) He could have selected which of the two factions, by instinct, by interest, or by obligation, he could most heartily cooperate with, and have called about him exclusively men prominently identified therewith, and who could rally their co factionists unitedly to his support. This would involve the risk of alienating the members of the adverse faction and all independent men; to induce apathy next year, during the canvass and at the election; to measurably organize future defeat and do much to secure it. Under existing circumstances this would be, not to make the Governor even the head of a faction, but a lieutenant thereof, subordinate to one much more potential than himself.

(c) He could have divided his appointments, equally or otherwise, between the factions, selecting men fully imbued with the aims and prejudices of each. This would be to satisfy neither, but to excite each to enterprise, in the hope of displacing its rival; to make his administration the focus of all intrigues, and to keep himself on the strain to prevent being overmastered. At the beginning his judgment seemed to be made up in favor of the first policy, which was strongly recommended by many considerations importing his personal ease and dignity and the welfare of the Republican party of this commonwealth. But pressure was brought to bear upon him. He wavered, and then succumbed. So far all his appointments have been made in the interest of one faction; and care has been taken in the method selected for notifying the appointees to signify to them and to the public that they owe their promotion not so much to the Governor as to a chief of faction. This is bad in itself, but the mischief is aggravated by disclosing at the start that the new administration yields to pressure. This is to invite importunity or requisition and to render resistance difficult if not impossible. More; it is to adopt the very method which the faction he has sided with has imputed to Governor CURTIN as an unpardonable offense, and for which an unrelenting warfare has been waged against him.

—Still, we are not without hope that Governor GEARY will quickly discover the mistake into which he has fallen, and will recover the vantage he has sacrificed to a false estimate of services in his behalf. He had a noble opportunity before him to merit well of the whole party by which he was elevated to power, and through it to be eminently useful to the whole country. None more ardently desire than we to see his brow entwined with a civic wreath that shall equal in beauty and verdure the martial one that now encircles it.

3. The election of General CAMERON to the United States Senate. It forms no part of our purpose to endorse or contradict the myriad whispers that fill the atmosphere, charging that his nomination was accomplished by bribery; nor those multitudinous imprecations, suggesting the time has come for the people of the Commonwealth, by a majestic uprising, in virtue of innate sovereignty, after the wholesome example once set in San Francisco, to hang a whole Legislature; and for the plain reason, that whatever we may suspect, we know absolutely nothing that criminates so much as a solitary individual. Not willing that our own reputation should be stabbed upon conjecture, suspicion or hypothesis, we shall not blacken the reputation of another for like unsubstantial cause. But, we may remark, that these imputations of bribery were so formidable that CAMERON's friends in the Legislature, and, doubtless, with his approval, asked and obtained a joint committee of investigation. The scrutiny is conducted by his friends, and if it shall prove not to be so thorough as to satisfy the public sense of the necessities of the case, an opportunity for review will be afforded at Washington, if the bill now pending in Congress, to meet this class of cases, shall become a law, as we trust it may. If the private individuals and editors of newspapers who are freely charging CAMERON with corruption have knowledge of any facts, receivable in courts of justice, which sustain their incriminations, they will prove greatly culpable if they do not forthwith proceed to Harrisburg, and present themselves before the aforesaid Committee for examination. If any one of them, without adequate knowledge, is charging CAMERON with bribery, he is guilty of intentional and cowardly defamation.

Some weeks ago, we remarked in substance, that while CURTIN was unprecedently popular with the masses, CAMERON was potential with a considerable circle of controlling politicians. The result of the Senatorial caucus, which we then foresaw, demonstrates the exactness of our conclusion. Had the nomination for Senator been determined, between CAMERON and CURTIN, and no more, by an election at which all the republicans of the State voted, CURTIN would have received at least three-quarters of the suffrages. The October election, after a skillful manipulation of County Nominating Conventions, returned only nineteen friends of CAMERON to the Legislature. A very large majority were clearly in favor of CURTIN. In the Legislative caucus, forty-six members voted for CAMERON, and his friends claimed, no doubt truly, that fifteen more would have done so had their votes been needed to produce the desired result. This policy of allowing certain members to act in accordance with the sentiment of their respective localities, rather than up to their private commitments, exhibits a consciousness of power and an extraordinary strategy.

General CAMERON will be elected to the Senate and will take his seat unchallenged. We put this prediction on record. He is not a man of the best order of intellect, nor are his capacities mainly cultivated in their higher range. He does not possess the qualities essential to commanding statesmanship. He is a politician rather than a statesman. But, as a politician,—his chosen sphere—he has few if any superiors. His perceptive faculties are large, and, in certain lines, well trained. He is fertile in expedients, not scrupulous as to means, ready to decide and assume responsibilities, experienced in the management of men and affairs, and remarkable at once for tenacity and flexibility—that is to say, he does not permit his likes or dislikes to stand in the way of an attainment. From his past career it may be safely inferred he will act in the Senate with energy and efficiency, and in concert with the radical section of the chamber. He will neither quail nor temporize. The peculiar interests of Pennsylvania, and the general welfare of the nation will be safe in his hands. Without the multiform learning or the oratorical elegance of COWAN, he will greatly surpass him in the value of the political principles he will illustrate, and the governmental policy he will espouse.

EDITORIAL BREVITIES.

A LITTLE GIRL thirteen years of age jumped out of a third story window of her parents' home, in Michigan, Ct., a few days since. Upon being picked up, almost uninjured, she told a horrible story of cruel treatment received from her unnatural parents. For three weeks she had been confined to a room, part of the time in a closet some eight feet long by two wide, with no food but one bowl of water gruel per day, and that for forty-eight hours she had been without food or drink of any kind whatever, and forbidden to speak to her mother. Almost starved, the poor child made the attempt to escape which resulted in her deliverance. Her story is borne out by her physical appearance, she having been reduced from a blooming, healthy child to a mere skeleton, while on her feet are chilblains that the doctor pronounced the worst he had ever seen. The cruel parents admitted her statement, but said it was punishment of the child, as she was stubborn and disobedient.

THE Stewart divorce scandal case still occupies the attention of the Chicago folks. It is the most disgusting suit ever brought in any court of the country, but it just suits the progressive style of that city, and is the only topic of conversation there. The young wife, daughter of a wealthy citizen—Washington Smith, Esq.—asks a divorce from her young husband, who, when married, was preparing for the pulpit, on a charge of adultery. According to the evidence of witnesses, who, however, are not of the most credit-worthy order, the charge will be sustained.

CAPT. HENRY JOHNSTON, of St. Louis, attempted to kill a pet dog which had grown blind and lame. He fired a shot at the brute which took effect, slightly wounding it. To terminate the dog's suffering he struck it over the head with a revolver, which discharged a ball into his own body, almost instantly killing him.

A YOUNG man named Farnam, blew out his brains at the wedding feast of his sister, in Williamsburg, N. J. He had up to a few minutes before the perpetration of the rash deed, participated in the festivities and appeared lively and gay.

THE negroes of Monroe county, Mo., recently held a meeting and established a bill of prices for their labor. For first class hands, male, $1.50 per day; female, 75 cents per day.

THE unlicensed liquor dealers of New York have been notified that they must take in their "signs and tokens" before today, as the excise law is to be vigorously enforced.

AN invention has just been made in Philadelphia, of a "shoe" of iron to be attached to street cars, to throw large or small objects from the track.

ISAAC BRADLEY, a Hartford mechanic, has just invented a very superior breech-loading rifle. It carries a ball of 45-100 calibre, 1,500 yards.

A CENTRAL PARK is the latest subject agitated in Chicago. Something to shame New York in this line is wanted.

A MR. COFFIN, of Boston, has had an infant son named Mahogany. A very grave joke.

RISTORI has thus far made $100,000 to carry back with her to foreign parts. Against this Artemus Ward will bring home $50,000, the earnings of his lectures in England.

ST. LOUIS is in a very quiet and orderly condition, and in the absence of any higher game, the police are enforcing street ordinances.

A GRAND horse comedy, in which some fifteen horses are introduced upon the stage, is the latest sensation of a New York theatre.

A WESTERN editor, after stating how badly he was bitten by a dog, hopes the offending canine may recover.

A YOUNG German lady fell dead in a waltz at a Turner's ball recently held at Boonville, Mo.

GENERAL NEWS.

—The Governor of Michigan recommends a thorough geological survey of that State, and that a school for the study of the sciences and arts relating to mines and minerals should be established. In Illinois a geological survey of thirty counties has recently been made, and an annual appropriation of $10,000 for the next two years is requested for its completion. The sum of $20,000 has already been expended in surveys and in the publication of geological reports. The Governor of New York recommends that appropriations be made for the preservation and extension of the State Cabinet of Geology and Natural History. A geological survey of New Jersey is being made by Professor Cook, which will probably be completed in April, 1868. A map of the green sand marl beds has been engraved and printed, but a final report is eventually to be published, with four maps, which will geologically represent the whole State.

—The Hon. Charles D. Drake, the newly nominated United States Senator from Missouri, is a lawyer by profession, a Democrat by education, and a leader by nature. He first became prominent in politics during the Presidential campaign of 1860, by warmly advocating the election of Mr. Douglas, and being among the first to characterize the Breckinridge movement as a plot to disrupt the Union. It was generally conceded at the close of the campaign that through his efforts, almost alone, the vote of the State was secured for Mr. Douglas as against Breckinridge.

Early in 1861, when it became evident that the South was determined upon secession, Mr. Drake broke loose from all party ties, and took occasion in a speech delivered in the State House of Representatives in January of that year, to denounce secession, and to declare himself no longer a Democrat, but an unconditional Union man.

—The Hon. Roscoe Conkling of New York will graduate from his seat in the present House of Representatives to a place in the Senate, having served his State ably and faithfully for three terms in the former body. He was born in Albany in 1828, and has not quite attained his 39th year. Having adopted the profession of the law, in which his father, Judge Conkling, was distinguished as the author of a learned treatise on Admiralty, he pursued it with energy, until in 1849 he was appointed District Attorney for Oneida county. In 1858 he became Mayor of the city of Utica, and at the close of his period of office, having governed the city to the great satisfaction of all classes of his fellow-citizens, he was elected a Representative to the Thirty-sixth Congress by a majority large enough to signify his great local popularity and personal worth.

—Illinois has purchased from Mrs. Douglas the lot of ground in which the remains of Stephen A. Douglas were buried, paying therefor the sum of $25,000. Governor Oglesby recommends an appropriation to aid the erection of a suitable monument over the remains of Abraham Lincoln, for which purpose the Monument Association now has $75,000 collected and invested, but $125,000 more are required to carry out the plan which has been adopted.

—A large majority of the citizens of Madison, Indiana, have expressed themselves in favor of the city's contributing $83,400 to the proposed railroad to Cincinnati. The City Council at its next meeting will probably pass the ordinance donating that sum to the enterprise.

—A new counterfeit twenty-dollar bill on the Fourth National Bank, Philadelphia, has made its appearance in the West.

—Two boys were discovered playing euchre in a Boston church, during service, "for beer for the crowd."

GEORGE MUIR, of Armstrong's Coal Works, Penn township, Allegheny county, speaks as follows of the

REV. E. A. WILSON'S

Great Remedy for Consumption:

"I was reduced so low with consumption that I was unable to leave my bed, and my physicians informed me that they could do nothing more for me, my case being utterly hopeless, that I had not certainly over a month to live. At this stage I was induced to try REV. E. A. WILSON'S REMEDY, and to-day I am as well as any man in the world. If there are any who doubt this statement, they can call and see me, (as per above address) and I will give them all the particulars of my extraordinary recovery."

THE TRUTH ABOUT DYSPEPSIA.—Whoever says that Dyspepsia is incurable, tells a—that is to say, makes an egregious mistake. More than ten thousand aggravated cases have been cured by HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, while the number that have been prevented from coming to a head, by the same means, is incalculable. In Winter and early Spring, when the appetite is sometimes too vigorous for the comfort and safety of the stomach, indigestion is most prevalent and most distressing. Is the appetite to be balked to accommodate the digestive organs? Not so; for then the frame would lack its due proportion of nutriment. The thing to be done is to STRENGTHEN THE STOMACH, tone the liver, and put the bowels in perfect order. Nothing will do this so effectually, so rapidly, so quietly so pleasantly, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. This potent preparation arms and balances the system, and clothes it, as it were, with defensive armor. Chronic dyspepsia, liver complaint, and fever and ague are never known to attack those who are wise enough to invoke the aid of this great preventive.

PURE CALIFORNIA WINES.
GURNER & CO.,
No. 80 Cedar St., New York,

Offer for sale these valuable Wines, which are gaining public favor with astonishing rapidity, and whose unprecedented and unrivalled popularity is not without merit. They have only to be fairly tested to give them the preference over all others. As a purifier of blood they excel all other Wines, and the numerous certificates which have voluntarily been tendered from the most eminent physicians, as well as gentlemen in every position in life, are proof conclusive that these Wines are useful in all cases for which they are recommended.

The following brands are now offered by us. They comprise all the varieties now grown in the State suitable for sale:

WHITE, or HOCK WINE—Of a light straw color, very delicate and fine flavored.

CLARET—A superior wine for table use.

ANGELICA—A rich and naturally sweet wine, much admired by ladies, and valuable in the sick chamber, as it makes fine wheys and jellies. It is a fine dessert wine, and well adapted for Communion purposes.

MUSCATEL—A light colored, highly aromatic wine. Very similar to the celebrated Tokay.

PORT—Deep red color, fine flavor, and in many respects similar to the old wines of Lisbon.

GRAPE BRANDY—The pure distillation of our wines.

WINE BITTERS—A very agreeable tonic and a sure remedy for the diarrhea.

This is one of the most valuable combinations of a useful and an agreeable beverage that has ever been offered to the public. Millions of bottles were sold throughout the North during the last four years, and wherever introduced it has proved a welcome addition to the invalid table, the family circle, and the bachelor's sideboard.

Ladies who have lost strength and appetite, and suffer from nausea, vomiting and vertigo; gentlemen who "don't feel very well" just before breakfast or dinner whose stomachs are out of order and whose systems are generally deranged; mothers weaning children and suffering from general debility; children of sickly nature and sour, dyspeptic constitutions; travelers who have occasion to change their water; and all who live in malarious districts and are subject to miasmatic influences, will find it one of the most valuable invigorators that can be taken.

It was used very extensively in 1861, with such general satisfaction that in offering it to the public now we deem it unnecessary to publish any of the many certificates that we have received, testifying in the very strongest terms in its favor. All that we can say is to guarantee that we will pledge ourselves to furnish an article PURE AND UNADULTERATED.

It has been given to little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill has been exhausted, has been entirely restored. She began with but a teaspoonful a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased and she is now well.

GOVERNMENT SALE.

The Property known as the "Government Tannery and Steam Saw Mill," with Seventy-five Acres of Land, near San Antonio, Texas.

SEALED PROPOSALS, in duplicate, will be received up to the FIRST DAY OF MARCH, 1867, for the purchase of 75 acres of Land, (more or less,) together with the Buildings erected thereon, and the appurtenances appertaining, that is to say:

ONE TANNERY, containing 12 Stone Lime Vats, Fifty-two Wooden Vats, Seven Stone Pools; and capable of tanning 15,000 hides per annum.

ONE STEAM SAW MILL, capable of sawing 3,000 feet of lumber daily.

ONE SMALL STONE BUILDING.

The above property is situated about two miles above San Antonio on the San Antonio River, and the water is conducted to the establishment by a race of hewn stone laid in cement.

The land was purchased and improvements made by the late so-called Confederate Government, and are estimated to have cost $150,000 in gold.

The property has been under lease for the year 1866, at a monthly rent of $ 00, payable in advance. A secured title in fee simple will be given by the United States Government.

Proposals will be marked "Proposals for Government Tannery and Saw Mill," and addressed to LOCAL NEWS ON FIRST AND THIRD PAGES.

Petroleum Refiners' Association.

On Saturday afternoon a special meeting of the Pittsburgh Petroleum Refiners' Association was held at the Board of Trade Rooms. In the absence of the President R. S. Waring, Esq., was called to preside.

The Chairman stated the object of the meeting to be to take action in regard to the proposed State Inspection Law for oil; also, in regard to the increased rate of freights demanded by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

On motion, a committee of three, consisting of Messrs. Morgan, Lockhart and Davis, were appointed to proceed to Harrisburg to attend to the interest of the refiners.

The following resolution was offered:

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to take steps to have a law, in relation the inspection of oil, passed in Congress, so that there may be unanimity throughout the country.

The duties arising out of the above resolution were added to the duties of the committee appointed to go to Harrisburg.

A resolution was offered providing that a committee be appointed to gather facts relative to the reduction of freights on the Pennsylvania Central Railroad; also, to confer with said company on the subject. The resolution was adopted, and the following committees appointed: Messrs. Lockhart, Morgan and Hutchinson, of Pittsburgh; Messrs. W. G. Warden, H. H. King and A. H. Black, of Philadelphia.

The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Committee on Freights, including Messrs. Tack, King and Warden, of Philadelphia, shall be requested to consider the great question of guage—whether the present method had better be continued, or that the contents of barrels shall be arrived at by weight; and that they shall be authorized to proceed to Washington City, and endeavor to have the proper laws, to ensure uniform guage, passed; and that they shall endeavor to have a law passed making it a penal offense for any person to sell any oil under one hundred and ten degrees (110°) fire test for home consumption.

On motion, a committee consisting of Messrs. Tack and Burke, were appointed to push forward the movement, started by Messrs. Tack and Thurston, to have the oil of Pennsylvania exhibited at the great Paris Universal Exposition.

It was announced that some seven hundred dollars had been subscribed by the refiners for the object, and those refiners wishing to exhibit oil at the Exposition, should call upon the Tack Brothers, on Duquesne Way.

The following resolution was offered and adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of the Association are due and hereby tendered to the Merchants' National Telegraph Company, and to the Pacific and Atlantic Telegraph Company of the United States, for their energy in building their lines, thereby affording us much needed and increased telegraphic facilities; that we recommend them to the public as worthy of their patronage, and heartily concur in the resolution passed by the Board of Trade at their meeting of January 9th, in reference to the Pacific and Atlantic Telegraph Company of the United States.

The Association then adjourned.

Amusement.

THEATRE.—Miss Annie Levering and the ballet troupe still continue to attract crowds to the old Theatre. The "Dance of Death" was the piece last night. The "Black Crook" is in active preparation, and will be brought out with a largely increased ballet force, so soon as the extensive arrangements, now being made, can be completed.

OPERA HOUSE.—We were delighted to see a good sized audience assembled at the Opera House last evening, to greet Mr. E. L. Davenport, on the first evening of his new engagement. He appeared in "St. Marc, or the Soldier of Fortune." He acted the part with even more than his accustomed power and inspiration, and delighted the audience in every scene in which he appeared. This evening "Hamlet" will crowd the Opera House to its utmost.

"THE USE, ABUSE AND BEAUTY OF ENGLISH WORDS."—This was the subject of a very able and exceedingly interesting lecture delivered by Rev. W. B. Watkins, at the Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, last evening. The subject, large and suggestive as it was, was handled most justly and adequately. A good audience listened and admired. The lecture is one that has been delivered by its author quite extensively during the season, and it is well worthy the popularity it has gained.

FATHER KEMP'S "OLD FOLKS."—The "Old Folks"—the original Father Kemp's Old Folks—have made their promised appearance among us, and gave their first concert last night at Masonic Hall. The large building was fairly crowded with a delighted audience. It is needless to say anything in praise of a concert troupe so well known and so universally popular as the Old Folks. Their unique costumes, carrying one back to our "Grandfather's Days," the glorious old anthems and songs they sing, ringing with the hearty inspiration of a hundred years ago, the magnificent voices and artistic cultivation exhibited by the troupe, all conspire to make an evening spent with the Old Folks one of the pleasantest imaginable. To single out individual performances or individual performers where all are so excellent, would be invidious, and as want of space compels us to forego full mention of each, we will only advise every reader to go to Masonic Hall and enjoy for himself the pleasure we cannot justly describe.

THE PARKS.—The somewhat "soft" weather of the past two days has not lessened the chances for skating at the parks, and yesterday good sized crowds were gathered at both of them, enjoying the intoxicating pleasure of gliding sport. The ice is excellent, and all should take advantage of it while it lasts.

The Sabbath School Teachers' Union.

This association is composed of the Superintendents, Teachers and officers connected with the United Presbyterian and Reformed Presbyterian churches of this city, Lawrenceville and Birmingham, together with the ministers of the churches represented. The object of the association is to promote the interests of the Sabbath School cause, by all possible and proper means, by disseminating information in regard to the work—by words of mutual encouragement and exhortation—by a mutual appeal at the Throne of Grace.

The meetings of this association have been well attended during the past year, and much good has been done through its instrumentality in the furtherance of the cause it represents. Its fourteenth annual meeting will be held in the Fifth U. P. Church, corner Washington and Webster streets, on Thursday evening, the 17th inst. The subject for this meeting will be "Individual Effort in Home Missionating," with reports from our Mission Sunday Schools. An election of officers for the ensuing year will also take place.

Although these meetings are especially intended for those engaged in Sabbath School work, the invitation is extended to all who have the welfare and moral training of the young at heart.

Alderman James L. Sutherland has opened an office on the corner of Diamond and Cherry alley. Deeds, Bonds, Mortgages, Leases, &c., drawn neatly, accurately and in legal form. He will be assisted by Geo. Watson, Jr., Esq., for many years the principal conveyancer in the late law firm of Sutler & Stanton, who will also attend to the examination of titles. Depositions taken rapidly, accurately and neatly.

Committed.—The nameless beggar, who, we mentioned yesterday, as having been arrested on Wylie street and lodged in the lockup, because of his queer performances, was yesterday committed to jail for thirty days, as a vagrant. He still maintained the same obstinate silence as at first, not having spoken a word after his money was offered to him. His name has not been ascertained.

Released.—Jerry Elsbury, committed some time since by Alderman Butler to await his trial on a charge of abandonment, was yesterday released from imprisonment, having obtained the required bail.

John Porter, committed last week by acting Mayor Morrow to answer a charge of assault and battery, likewise obtained bail yesterday and was released.

Jewish Synagogue Re-opened.—The Jewish Synagogue, on Hancock street, has been closed for repairs for three months. It was formally re-opened on Saturday morning last. Several thousand dollars have been expended in re-fitting it, and it now presents an elegant appearance. Ladies and gentlemen will hereafter occupy the same pews.

—A telegraph dispatch from Washington says it is the intention of the Acting Comptroller of the currency to require National Banks to keep the amount of reserve of lawful money required to protect their circulation in plain legal-tender notes, as the act authorizing the the issue of compound interest notes provides that such notes shall not be a legal-tender for the redemption by any bank of its circulating notes. The text of the law on which the Comptroller bases this contemplated action, if it be true that he purposes to act in the matter at all, is in these words: "Nor shall any Treasury note bearing interest issued under this act, be a legal-tender in payment or redemption of any notes issued by any bank, banking association or banker, calculated or intended to circulate as money." Though the act of June 30, 1864, from which this provision is taken, may bear the interpretation given it, as its purpose of a reserve is as fully effected in holding the compound interest notes as in holding legal-tenders, it is not probable that the Comptroller will interfere with the custom now grown common.

—A general disappointment prevails (says the Philadelphia Press) that the ease in money which was expected at the beginning of the year has not as yet appeared. The causes of the stringency are not to be found in the scarcity of capital, for probably there has not for a long time been a larger amount of disengaged funds seeking investment. Nor has the strigency been produced by any scarcity of currency; for of national bank notes the bank vaults contain an abundant supply, and the greenback reserve is also large. There is another direction, however, in which we can look with more success for the disturbing influences. It is in the weakening of that public confidence on which rest the foundations of all business enterprise and material progress. Public confidence is disturbed, and hence the trouble in the money market. Among the chief sources of this trouble we mention the want of a settled policy in reference to the currency. The inflationists urge an increase of its volume. If this mischievous scheme is carried prices must tend upwards, and men will be safe in buying stocks, merchandise and goods at present rates. The resumptionists, however, want a violent effort to be made to return at at a single leap to specie payments. If they should carry Congress with them, a fall in prices to an extent which cannot be foreseen must inevitably take place. Business men who anticipate the adoption of this crude and perilous scheme think it madness to buy at present prices, and prefer to do little or no business. For the present, at least, the bears hold the upper hand, and are availing themselves of various expedients for heightening the stringency into a temporary spasm. In the movement now on foot for depressing prices, there seems to be a general belief that the speculators are very largely assisted by many of the most prominent New York bankers.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, January 14, 1867.

The produce markets are exceedingly dull to-day, there being but very little done excepting in a retail way. There is no falling off in the arrivals of Flour, Grain, and Hay, and with a supply already in excess of the demand, holders, generally, are anxious to realize, and in many cases, manifest a willingness to make concessions in order to gain this point.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet and unchanged. Oats dull but held pretty firmly at 49 to 50, on track, and 52 to 53 in store. Corn is selling on track at 70 to 75, according to quality, and the demand is light. Rye may be quoted at $1,23 to $1,25 for prime Ohio and Penna.—very little Western in market. Barley is dull and there is not enough doing to establish quotation.

FLOUR—Is steady but rather dull the demand being entirely local. We continue to quote in a regular way in store at $12¼ to $12¾ for fair to choice brands of Spring Wheat; $13,50 to $14,50 for Winter Wheat; and $16 to $17 for fancy brands. Sale of 100 bbls low grade Spring at $11,90; 100 good at $12,35; and 25 bbls Pacific—a fancy St. Louis brand—at $16. Rye Flour is quoted at $8. Buckwheat is offering at $3¼ to $3¾.

GROCERIES—The grocery market is reported rather quiet, both city and country buyers purchasing sparingly, but so far as prices are concerned, there are no changes worthy of special notice.

APPLES—The market is more active, and with a fair demand and a lightt supply, prices are a shade higher, and we now quote at $3,50 to $4,50 per bbl.

POTATOES—Continue exceedingly dull, and the sales are very light, and almost entirely of a retail character. We continue to quote prime Peach Blows, in store, at 90c per bushel.

HAY—Continues very dull, with a supply largely in excess of the demand, but prices are not quotably lower. We can report a sale of 1 car common at $21, and 1 car prime at $25.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is now quoted at $2,75, and but little offering. No movement in Clover or Timothy Seeds.

BUTTER—There is no improvement to note in the demand, and with a big supply and large receipts, the market is dull with a drooping tendency. We continue to quote at 28 to 32, for fair to prime Roll.

EGGS—Dull but unchanged; sales reported at 20c for limed, and 28c to 30 cents for fresh packed.

DRESSED HOGS—Coming in pretty freely, but the demand seems to keep pace with the supply, and prices are maintained—7½ to 8.

DRIED FRUIT—Dull but unchanged. Apples, 9 to 10c, and Peaches at 16 to 20—quarters and halves.

OIL—Is quiet and unchanged; No. 1 Lard Oil is still quoted at $1,12 to $1,15, and No. 2 at 87 to 90.

LARD—Is selling in a regular way at 12½ to 13 for prime kettle rendered in tierces, and the usual advance in kegs.

SORGHUM—Is dull and a fraction lower, and may now be quoted at 50 to 55, for good to prime.

BEANS—Prime small white (new crop) in steady demand at $2,75 per bush.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, January 14, 1867.

CRUDE—There was next to nothing done in the crude market to-day, the sales being confined to some three car loads of Smith's Ferry at 12¼, packages included, and 7¼, packages returned. Venango oil, of which there is but little offering, and but little in market, may be quoted on the spot at 8¼ to 9 cts, bbls returned, and 13¼ to 14, bbls included, and these may be regarded as the extremes of the market. For spring delivery, the market is quiet and we continue to quote, in the absence of sales, at 9 cts asked, and 8 to 8½ offered.

REFINED—Not a single operation of any kind in bonded oil to-day, at least we have none reported, and, while the market continues dull and neglected, prices are nominally unchanged—20½ to 21 on cars here, and 27 to 27½, delivered in Philadelphia. We hear of offers to buy at 28½ for all this month; 29½ for February; and 30¼ for March, but our refiners generally do not seem satisfied to contract ahead at these figures, preferring rather to hold on and take the chances. The speculative feeling is not so strong as it was a few weeks ago, although there are still some parties who are willing to invest at present apparently low figures. We heard of one speculator, who, to-day, settled a contract for eight thousand barrels, paying the refiner nineteen thousand dollars for a release—that is to say, the oil depreciated to that amount in value since the contract was made. Free oil is dull but unchanged.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals of oil were reported to-day:

Johnston & Payne	28	Little & Co	55

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, January 12.—The wool market is without material change either in prices or the volume of trade. There is a moderate demand for fine staple, suited to the seasonable production of goods; but transactions are mostly confined to small lots wanted for present consumption. Spring fabrics are not yet selling to any extent, and manufacturers will not take hold of the raw material with great vigor till their products begin to move off freely. Many of them are still running on short time, and hence their consumptive wants are limited.

But the stock of wool now on this market is far from being large, and being mostly of superior quality, such as cannot be replaced at current rates, it is firmly held. No further concession in prices is looked for or demanded and buyers readily take what they want without much chaffering or running about. The prospect is that all desirable wool in the country will be wanted before another clip, and that large quantities of the very best will soon be taken for immediate consumption. No great rush of trade, however, is expected at any time during the balance of the season—unless some unexpected change in the tariff should be made—but the demand will doubtless be steady and pretty evenly distributed, buyers coming into the market as their consumptive exigencies require.

The market is well supplied with pulled wools, which are now coming forward quite freely owing to the slaughtering of mutton for the provision market, and stocks of the low grades have rather an accumulative tendency. The finer qualities are not so plenty, and good lots of extra are taken about as fast as received at prices rather tending up. Sales of domestic for the week have been fair, and foot up some 750,000 lbs, at a range of 35 to 75c for fleece, and 35 to 60c for the various grades of pulled.—Bulletin.

RIVER NEWS.

The weather was again soft and unsettled yesterday, though, towards evening the wind shifted around to the north, and we should not be surprised to see it turn cold again. As a matter of course, business is still virtually suspended at the landing, though, occasionally a dray load of freight may be seen moving in that direction.

There is to be a meeting of steamboatmen this evening at the office of the Pittsburgh Insurance Company, for the purpose of forming into kind of joint stock company; also, for forming lines to various points so as to secure speed and regularity in the transportaion of freight, and to better regulate prices, which have been very irregular lately. The movement is a good one, and it is to be hoped that the attendance will be full, and that the objects sought after will be attained.

The following boats are still receiving freight, and will be the first out on the opening of navigation. Kate Robinson and Leonidas, for New Orleans; Kate Putnam and Glendale, for Cincinnati, and the Maggie Hays for Cincinnati.

Captain Porter is altering the steamer Ezra Porter, for the Pittsburgh and St. Louis trade. She is receiving new cylinders and having her shafts raised. The new cylinders will be nineteen inches in diameter, with six feet stroke. Her hurricane deck is also being extended over her guards. She will be ready by the resumption of navigation, and will leave Pittsburgh for St. Louis every third Saturday.

Says the Louisville Courier: The locked-up safety valve question has, or is likely to come to a tangible solution, as was evinced by the communication of Col. Guthrie, the Supervising Inspector of the district, in the Courier yesterday.

Mr. Guthrie distinctly states that he will adopt any valve that meets the requirements of the law. He is for the safety of the lives of the people, and the preservation of property. This is all right and proper, and we hope soon to hear of a valve that will supersede all that have been introduced, and we incline to the opinion that it must also carry off electricity.

Says the Cincinnati Gazette: The Louisville canal, ditch, or whatever it may be named, is a serious impediment to the river commercial interests of our city, and will ever be so, as long as our steamboat proprietors remain as passive as they have been for years past. This is a matter which ought to enlist the attention of Cincinnati boat owners, to such an extent, in fact, that ways and means may be developed in securing another method of ingress and egress to our city, and thus rescue such of our commercial interest as now lies in a precarious and dangerous condition, by reason of the limited and ill-managed water course through which our boats are now compelled to pass.

Brick Pomeroy goes for a railroad and steamboat agent of his own town in this wise: The person who supersedes Britt as agent for the LaCrosse and Milwaukie road at this point is Mr. Strasberger, of Janesville, Wis. Mr. Britt has been a failure. He has feathered his nest quite well, but has not won a place in one single heart in LaCrosse. There is not an employee at the depot that respects or loves him; there is not an honorable business man on the river who respects him, and but few who believe in his honesty. He has not friends enough in LaCrosse to purchase and present him even a fifty dollar testimonial of regard. He may do for Milwaukee—for Prairie du Chien, but he has proved the most complete "dead beat" for business this city ever knew—a fit wart on the Monopoly corporation he has catered for and aided to make obnoxious to the people of the Northwest. If he could be in the stores and business places of this city and hear men talk of him—see them turn up their noses in disgust when his name is mentioned, he'd go home sick the first hour.

The New Orleans Times has a long article on the disaster to the steamer Fashion, from which we make the following extract:

It is quite possible that under a given state of circumstances such catastrophes as that of the Fashion are unavoidable. But it is likewise quite possible that such a state of circumstances is not a necessary state. It is not requisite that a combustible material like cotton should be exposed to the showers of fire from a steamboat chimney; it is not requisite that when a boat is discovered to be on fire she should be rounded to in such a way as to wrap her in flames in a few minutes; it is not requisite that a steamboat should be destitute of the facilities of saving from death by drowning the terrified creatures who flee from death from burning. In fine, it is not necessary that a steamboat on the Mississippi seould be burnt, and it is not necessary that if she be burnt, twenty-five or thirty or a hundred human beings should be destroyed with her. If such catastrophes are necessary, then science is a delusion, a snare and a failure, and river navigation had better be abandoned.

Says the Cincinnati Commercial, of Sunday: The Clifton and Westmoreland having succeeded in working through the gorge of ice above the head of the canal at Louisville, left that point yesterday morning and will arrive here to-day. As the river is falling and quite low—only seven feet to Louisville—and ice constantly making, and running in increased quantities, we may announce a suspension of navigation. Should the present cold weather continue forty-eight hours, the ice will surely gorge at points above and below the city, and then farewell to navigation, in all probability, until the latter part of February. We would advise all our boatmen to secure good ice harbors, however, in anticipation of this event, as a breaking up of the ice is always attended with more or less destruction of steamboats. Mr. Cal. W. Bennett, jr., leaves for Cairo in to-day's train, having been engaged in the office of the Illinois Central Railroad Company, at that point.

CITY AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

(ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS ON FIRST PAGE.)

The Dayton Tragedy.

In our telegraph column yesterday morning brief mention was made of a bloody murder, which had been committed at Dayton, Ohio. From the Dayton Journal we extract the full particulars of the affair, as follows:

Last evening, about 5 o'clock, the body of Miss Christine Kett, who lived with her mother, on Oak street, near Wayne, was found lying dead in the kitchen of the house.

During the day the brother of the unfortunate girl, in company with a neighbor, was working for Dr. Webster, and on going home in the evening, discovered the body of the girl lying on the floor, which was covered with her blood. A pistol was lying by her left side, and the right side of her head was terribly shattered.

Drs. Steele and Weis were called in, and it was found that, besides indications of powder, there were two terrible gashes upon the right side of the head, which could only have been made with some sharp instrument. A piece of her skull was found in the cellar. When found, her feet were hanging over the cellar steps, and the head a few feet from the cellar door.

The brother of the young lady recognized the pistol as one belonging to him, and he said that he had used it on New Year's evening; that after using it, he had separated the barrel from the stock, and placed it in a woolen rag in his trunk. He went to it, and found the pistol missing. On looking for his powder flask, he found it had been moved from where he placed it, although in the same cupboard. He had no bullets of any kind about the house, nor was there any part of a cap found with the pistol. The testimony showed that the deceased was of excellent character; that she had no trouble to vex her, but was of a lively and cheerful disposition. She had no beaux visiting her. Yesterday and this morning she was in good health and spirits. There was no house nearer than three hundred yards from her residence. The mother of the girl was out at work, and the brother was also absent. She was alone during the whole afternoon.

The following is a statement of the examination made by Dr. H. K. Steele:

I examined the body of Christine Kett, and found three distinct cuts on the right side of the head, two of them crossing each other at nearly right angles, and from about four to four and one-half inches long, each. The third cut was a small one running into the others. The cut commenced about one and a half inches above the inner angle of the right eye, running back and terminating about one-half inch above the right ear. The other was almost at right angles to it, and commencing near the top of the head, terminated between the ear and eye. The points of fracture of these cuts were burned with powder. Pieces of the brain were scattered over the scalp, and the fracture of the scull involved more space than the wounds in the scalp occupied, and the temporal bone and the parietal bone, the ethmoid bones, the upper maxillary bones being more or less fractured and a large portion of the temporal and parietal bones being carried away. The evidence of the discharge of powder proceeded obliquely forward and downward, from its entrance toward the roof of the mouth. I think the pistol must have been placed close to the head and that the wounds in the scalp must have been made by some sharp instrument, and that from the amount of blood on the floor, she must have been killed before the shot was fired. I do not think the cuts on the scalp could have been made with a pistol. She was not enciente.

HENRY K. STEELE, M. D.

Having assisted Dr. Steele in the examination, I fully concur in the statement made above.

HENRY W. WEIS, M. D.

No instrument was found on the premises by which these wounds could have been inflicted. Neither bullet nor shot were found in the brain. Tracks, indicating the passage of a person to and from the house, through the back yard, were found in the snow. The father of the girl was a soldier in the Union army, and was killed after having served two years.

The verdict of the Jury of inquest was, that the deceased came to her death by the hands of some person or persons unknown to the Jury.

There is, of course, no doubt but that the girl was foully murdered, and any one having information by which a clue may be obtained to the perpetrator of this bloody deed, are requested to communicate the same to Marshal Hale.

Liabilities of Telegraph Companies.

We take the following from the Detroit Post. It involves some new and interesting points of law: A case was before the Wayne Circuit Court yesterday, involving some new questions. It was that of John H. Carew against the Western Union Telegraph Company. Carew is an oyster dealer in this city. About a year ago he telegraphed to Baltimore for a quantity of oysters to be shipped to him at once. The message was delayed in transmission, and in consequence the oysters did not reach here until after the price had greatly declined. Carew now sues the company to recover as damages the difference between what the oysters would have been worth to him had they come in response to his message, as he expected, and what they were worth when they did come. Under the charge of the court the jury brought in a verdict awarding him the damages claimed, $207.96.

The counsel for the plaintiff asked the Judge to charge the following points to the jury:

1. That if the jury find that the printed agreement on the back of the paper on which the message was written was not signed by the parties, then the plaintiff is not bound by it.

2. That it is immaterial on which line the error occurred, the defendant having received pay for the proper transmission of the message from Detroit to Baltimore.

3. That if the plaintiff's attention was not called to the necessity of repeating the message in order to insure its correct delivery, he was not bound so to do to entitle him to recover.

The counsel for the defendant asked the Judge to charge as follows:

1. That the condition endorsed on the back of the blank on which plaintiff wrote the message directed to be sent, constitute a part of the contract between plaintiff and defendant, and that plaintiff is bound by these conditions whether he had ever read them or not.

2. That defendant is not liable for any error in the transmission of the message in question, unless plaintiff at the time of the delivery of the dispatch, directed the message to be repeated, and paid the additional sum required by said conditions for repeated messages.

3. That under these conditions the defendant is not liable if the jury find from the evidence that the mistake in question did not happen on the line of defendant, but on that of another company, over whose line the dispatch was sent, on the way to Baltimore.

4. That there is a fatal variance between the contract declared or in the plaintiff's declaration, and that proved, and therefore plaintiff cannot recover.

The last point was subsequently withdrawn and reserved to be argued on a motion for a new trial, should one be asked for.

His honor Judge Witherell declined to charge any of the points asked by the defendant, and instructed the jury.

1. That the printed notice on the blank was no notice unless the plaintiff's attention was specially called to it.

2. That when the defendants take a message to send to Baltimore they are bound to send it. The plaintiff cannot be required to hunt up all the links of the chain to find upon what particular link the error occurred.

3. That if the jury find from the testimony that the Plaintiff requested the message to be repeated and it was not so repeated, then the defendant is liable.

Burglary in Reading.

We take the following from the Reading Dispatch: Sometime during last night the hardware store of Mr. John McKnight, corner of Third and Penn streets, was burglariously entered and robbed of a large amount of cutlery, to the value of five hundred dollars or more. The burglars effected an entrance to the store by prying open the shutters on Third street. They evidently became alarmed before they had accomplished their work, as the safe was not molested nor the money drawers disturbed. It seems to us very strange that business houses can be entered almost nightly from the main business streets by burglars, without detection. It is high time that our police force was strengthened by at least nine men. Until this is done, our business men must continue to suffer from the depredations of these villainous burglars, and we shall have to report them as of almost nightly occurrence.

Affiliation.

Lucinda Weston, a colored girl residing on Ohio street, in the First ward, Allegheny, appeared before Alderman Neillie yesterday, and made information against Joseph Fisher, a man of her own race, charging him with fornication and bastardy. A warrant was issued and placed in the hands of officer Scott, of Mayor Morrison's police. The officer speedily arrested the alluring Fisher and he was given a hearing, which resulted in his being required to give bail in the sum of three hundred dollars for his appearance at Court. Being unable to raise the required amount he was committed to jail to await the trial.

Another Victim.

The Allegheny tombs yesterday contained another terribly afflicted victim of the devil of drunkenness. Robert McMillan, a resident of East Lane, in the Fourth ward, Allegheny, was arrested on Sunday evening by officers Scott and Campbell, of the Mayor's police. When arrested he was wandering about the street, laboring under a severe attack of the mania a potu. He was placed in a cell of the lock-up, and received the proper attention demanded by his case. Yesterday afternoon his condition was somewhat improved.

Seriously Hurt.

The Chester County Democrat says: Mr. Thomas Whitely, a respectable citizen of this place, was seriously injured by a blast at the quarry on the Pennsylvania railroad, near Hoopes' farm, on Thursday last. It appears that the fuse had been partly extinguished, and in attempting to readjust it the explosion took place, injuring Mr. Whitely in several places about the head and body. The wounds are very painful, but it is thought the wounded man will recover.

Columbia Oil Company.—The regular annual meeting of the Columbia Oil Company, was held on Thursday the 10th inst. Directors for the ensuing year, D. A. Stewart, S. Coe, D. Richey, A. Hattje, C. Hetter, J. R. Weir, W. A. Shreve. Officers. D. A. Stewart, President. D. Richey, Treasurer. E. Westervelt, Secretary. G. Bueiton Superintendent.

Closing Out.

Alderman Donaldson yesterday had a case of somewhat too summary closing out before him. Miss Effie Dumont, a pretty and apparently very amiable young woman, engaged a room in the McClurg Building on Fifth street, paid an installment of the rent, and had some of her furniture removed to the apartment. Among other articles of furniture, she purchased a small new cooking stove worth fourteen dollars, and had it also taken to the room. On Saturday, when she attempted to visit her new abode, she found the upper hall door fastened, and Mrs. Close, a tenant who occupied one of the rooms on the same floor, informed her from the inside that she should never come in there. Expostulation was useless. Mrs. Close was fully determined never to live so close to Miss Dumont, as the latter contemplated, and the new tenant had to leave for re-inforcements. She secured the services of the agent from whom the rooms were leased, and together they visited the spot and opened negotiations, but with the same result as before. Mrs. Close was fully determined to keep her would be neighbor closed out, and the forces withdrew.

On Sunday afternoon Miss Dumont made another attempt to get in. This time the door was open, but Mrs. Close put in a wrathful appearance and warned the lady that unless she went down stairs immediately it would be the worse for her, and moreover, unless she removed her new stove straightway it would be worse for the stove. Miss D. started down stairs precipitately, and had barely time to reach the bottom before the new stove came thundering down after her. She succeeded by a skillful effort, in escaping from the descending article, but the stove itself was thoroughly demolished—no pieces being left large enough to cover a bird's nest. The owner of the demolished piece of hardware appeared before Alderman Donaldson yesterday afternoon and made an information charging Mrs. Close with malicious mischief. A warrant was issued.

Return of Officer Wilmot.

Last evening officer Seth Wilmot, who left last week for St. Clair City, Michigan, having in charge George Lutze, the boy convicted of robbing the Postoffice at that place, returned to this city, having safely taken his charge to the place mentioned, and turned him over to the proper authorities there. Lutze demonstrated anew his claims as a sharp prisoner by two decided attempts to escape from the protecting care of the officer in charge of him. Had he known officer Wilmot as well as our native rascals, he would have made no such useless endeavors. The first attempt was made at Cleveland. While Seth was occupied in buying the tickets at that place, Lutze took advantage of the officer's attention being diverted, to skip. He broke and ran, and notwithstanding the fact that he was handcuffed, succeeded in running some three hundred yards before the officer, who was in hot pursuit, succeeded in overtaking him. That functionary at last brought him to by lending him one by which the fugitive appeared in a drop-scene. At Toledo the travellers were detained by "missing the connection." While they were waiting there, the policeman, wearied with work and travel, became drowsy, and was aroused by hearing a noise at the door. He sprang up just in time to see his travelling companion disappearing through the door. He pursued and caught the chap after a very brief pursuit. At Detroit they again missed the train, but Seth made things safe by locking Lutze up in a secure room. When Lutze had been delivered to the St. Clair authorities, the Judges of the Court were immediately notified, and it is thought that the young man was sentenced yesterday.

Fire in Womelsdorf.

The Reading Journal of Saturday morning says: Our correspondent at Womelsdorf writes us that a little before midnight, on Thursday a fire was discovered in a frame stable in the alley back of High street, the property of Dr. Moore, of that borough. The citizens were soon present, and by great exertions succeeded in saving all the adjoining stables but one, the latter on the premises now occupied by Josiah Kalbach, was entirely destroyed. Two young heifers, considerable hay, straw, corn fodder and farming implements belonging to Dr. Moore, a cow belonging to a hired man, and an entirely new trotting buggy, the property of W. G. Moore, were destroyed by the fire. An ox belonging to the doctor made his escape with a few slight burns. Fortunately there was not a breath of air stirring. Had it been very windy, it is impossible to say what damage might have been done, as the fire broke out nearly in the centre of the town. It was probably the work of an incendiary.

Attempted Suicide—From the Reading Dispatch we take the following: We are informed that a man, about fifty-five years of age, named Donkleberger, residing in Rockland township, attempted to commit suicide on Sunday last, by trying to cut his arm with a razor. He was, however, discovered by one of the family before he could accomplish his purpose. He refused to state what induced him to the rash act.

JOHN CROFT,
ja13 Real Estate Agent, 139 Fourth street.

FOR SALE.—A Farm of about 58 acres in Union Township, Allegheny county, Pa., situate about four miles from the city on the Washington Pike. The improvements are a large two story Brick Dwelling House with 12 rooms, a two-story Spring House, a Carriage House, a large Lumber Room, a No 1 Frame Bank Barn, with stabling sufficient for 50 head of cattle. There is a fine Young Orchard, comprising about 12 acres, stocked with the best varieties of fruit trees. It is all underlaid with coal. The land is in a high state of cultivation, well watered, fences good, and would suit admirably for dairy or gardening purposes.
Also, 17½ acres adjoining the above, with a good Frame House, Carriage House, good Spring House and other out-buildings; with a good Orchard in fine bearing condition. This piece is also all underlaid with coal.
Also, 12 acres adjoining the above, unimproved, for sale low. This piece is also all underlaid with coal.
The above three pieces of property lie between the Little Saw Mill Run and Steubenville Railroads, and the coal can be reached easily from either road. The coal alone is worth all that is asked for the entire property.
Also Farm of 173 acres, situate in St. Clair township, Westmoreland county, Pa., immediately on the line of the Penna. Railroad. The improvements are a two-story Frame House with five rooms and good cellar, a Frame Bank Barn, 40x60 feet, and other out-buildings. There is on the place a good Young Apple Orchard; 120 acres cleared, balance in good timber; fencing generally good, well watered; underlaid with coal and limestone; convenient to churches, mills, schools and blacksmith shops, together with the personal property such as stock, implements, grain in the ground, &c. Posession given immediately.
